EXAMINING GLOBAL SERVICE

JANUARY TERM 2015

NDL 155

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AND CULTURAL EDUCATION

About the Course

Students will examine global service through volunteering with Africa Jam, a non-profit organization in Cape Town, South Africa. Students will engage in service and cross-cultural conversations as well as visit several cultural sites that provide the political and cultural context of South Africa. Through service, community outreach, cross-cultural conversations, and course readings, students will examine global service and relate that knowledge to their own sense of service and understanding of the unique needs and functions of community. Students will be expected to articulate their experience through both written and oral presentations.

Requirements

Students will complete daily journal entries. They will also complete a class presentation and will write a final paper, due upon return to Gustavus.

Course Objectives

Students will be expected to examine, and gain global perspective of, service through volunteering with Africa Jam, a non-profit organization in Cape Town, South Africa. Students will engage in service and cross cultural conversations as well as visit several cultural sites that provide the political and cultural context of South Africa.

The primary goal of this course is to immerse students in the history, culture, and daily life of South Africans in order to develop an understanding of the impact of service from "outsiders," and to help gain insight into the causes and solutions related to race relations in this region.

The second goal is for students to use their service experience in conjunction with the readings, reflection, and cross cultural conversations to develop an understanding of their ability to make a positive impact on the world.

Explore South Africa

Through the course, students will have the opportunity to visit many cultural sites, explore communities through visiting townships, and going on safari. The sites include:

- Robben Island (Where Nelson Mandela was imprisoned)
- District Six Museum
- The Townships of Langa, Lotus River, and Khayelitsha
- Aquila Safari
- Table Mountain National Park
- World class beaches - both the Atlantic and Indian Oceans
- Penguin Habitats
- Red Bus Tour of Cape Town
- And more!
